there s also the perennial question of whether the last day ends on the multiple of 24 hours from the time when the deadline was given if it means midnight of that day or closing time of that day or

25 dec 2018 would you think the next 10 days includes today if not would there be a clearer way to put it to refer to today and the following 9 days

21 feb 2016 the most natural thing to do would be to take them in the order specified so first go a month from today and then go 10 days this goes to march 30th as a general presumption take

15 apr 2015 for example today is tuesday april 14th if i say last saturday i mean april 11th if i say this saturday i mean april 18th and if i say next saturday i mean april 25th although i i think it is a good question when there is yesterday morning and tomorrow morning why have an exception for this morning which means today s morning yes idiom but i actually do like idiomatic hence if within two working days were said on a thursday it would probably mean before the end of monday in conclusion the expression within the next two days does not have an exact meaning but

5 dec 2011 0 today is monday last week is strictly the period of seven days ending at midnight on sunday and the last two weeks is strictly the period of fourteen days ending at midnight on sunday today is oct 13 2010 it can be argued that in the last 3 months would be intuitively understood as the time frame from 8 13 2010 to 10 12 2010 while in the past three months would mean july august

23 mei 2017 so let s say today is monday and there will be a party on friday how should i say when the party is the party is in 3 days or the party is in 4 days also is this sequence of time periods c not necessarily 365 days for example today the time period will be from 1st august 2012 1038 0000 to now
